

UQ-CUHK Health Equity Webinar Series:

The impact of Australia and Hong Kong's healthcare systems

The University of Queensland (UQ) and The Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK) share a strong track record and vision for research and social impact in addressing society's key challenges.

Join the discussion on Australia and Hong Kong's healthcare systems and their efficiency and impact across society, from cost-benefit analysis, digital health to integrated healthcare systems.

Drawing insights from their research and experiences in Australia and Hong Kong, our speakers will examine the healthcare systems of both economies and what can be done to improve the situation.
